DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-12 are drawn to Group I, and classified in class 441, subclass 003. The invention is drawn to a mooring apparatus comprising a partly submerged dock pivotally attached to a rigid connecting member, and a single point mooring system attached to the seabed by a compliant anchoring system.
 - II. Claim 13 is drawn to Group II, and classified in class 114, subclass 230.1. The invention is drawn to a method of mooring a vessel comprising the steps of attaching a single point mooring system to the seabed, aligning a floating dock with the direction of approach of a floating vessel, positioning the vessel within the dock, adjusting the buoyancy of the dock, and loading/unloading material onto/from the vessel.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions in Group I and Group II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown:

 - (i) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product, or
 - (ii) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h).

In the instant case, the product as claimed could be used in a materially different process of using that product, such as in a process that does not require a floating vessel.

Art Unit: 3617

Similarly, the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product, such as a single point mooring system that does not require attachment to the seabed by a compliant anchoring system

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 3617
